Double by Stahl.

Keeler reached first base on four balls in the first inning, and raced the rest of the way in on a two-bagger to the score board by Stahl. Stahl stole third, which pulled the infield in. Elberfeld flounced Delehanty's head, scoring That play broke up the first-in-

Clymer burned a stinger to Dovle in the second inning. It was too torrid to handle, but Doyle chased the ball and made a useless throw to first to head off despite bad support. Clymer, The throw was worse than u less. It was a bad throw, and Clyn went to second. Freeman sent a sin to right, scoring Clymer. Street san ficed, Niles covering first for Doy throw. Doyle erred again, mentally time. He threw to first when he time to throw to second and force Fr man. However, McBride and Ship were easy on grounders, and no dama

Niles and Keeler singled in the third, with nobody out, and were left on strike-outs by Stahl and Chase and a feeble tap by Elberfeld.

Score on Chase's Double,

Niles hit safely to right in the fifth, and by clever running reached second base Keeler sacrificed, and Stahl hit to Cates.

Keeler each making a clean, but short, places. Score: There were two out, and Pick ering grabbed Stahl's fly. Chase was his a pitched ball in the seventh inning but Hurst would not allow him to walk. Cates and Pickering had been put out in the eighth, when the Washingtons sprang a sudden streak of sauciness. Ganley cracked a safe one to center, Delehanty walked, and Clymer slashed to right, and fetched Ganley home. Elberfeld made a great stop of Freeman's single, else the score would have been tied. Delehanty scored, but the stop held Clymer, who had stolen second at third. Clymer and Freeman tried a double steal, and the former was hooked at the plate on Niles' smart return of Kleinow's throw.

Conroy doubled in the eighth, and was thrown out at the plate by Shipke, whose fielding was of the purest quality. error by Kleinow put Street on first in the ninth, and after McBride had bunted a fly to Cheshro, Street rushed to third on a wild pitch. Kleinow was slow getting after the ball. Chesbro then fanned Warner and Milan, emergency hitters, on sharp-breaking salivary slings.
